Receiving an average of 300 days of sunshine a year, the Jeinimeni property, along with the rest of General Carrera Province, boasts the best climate in southern Chile. Beautiful days invite visitors to explore the immensity of the Patagonian landscape.

---

The fauna-rich area is home to Guanacos, ñandúes (small South American ostriches), Black-necked Swans, Andean Condors and flamingos.

---

---

At the end of every summer, brown and rainbow trout from Lake General Carrera ascend the Jeinimeni River to spawn, resulting in incredible fishing at the border of the Jeinimeni Property.

---

Largely unchanged since the arrival of settlers 100 years ago, the Jeinimeni River still offers world-class fishing, and for many, the catch of a lifetime.

---

The Jeinimeni property is located at the epicenter of an unparalleled variety of natural attractions such as nearby General Carrera Lake, the second-largest freshwater lake in South America.

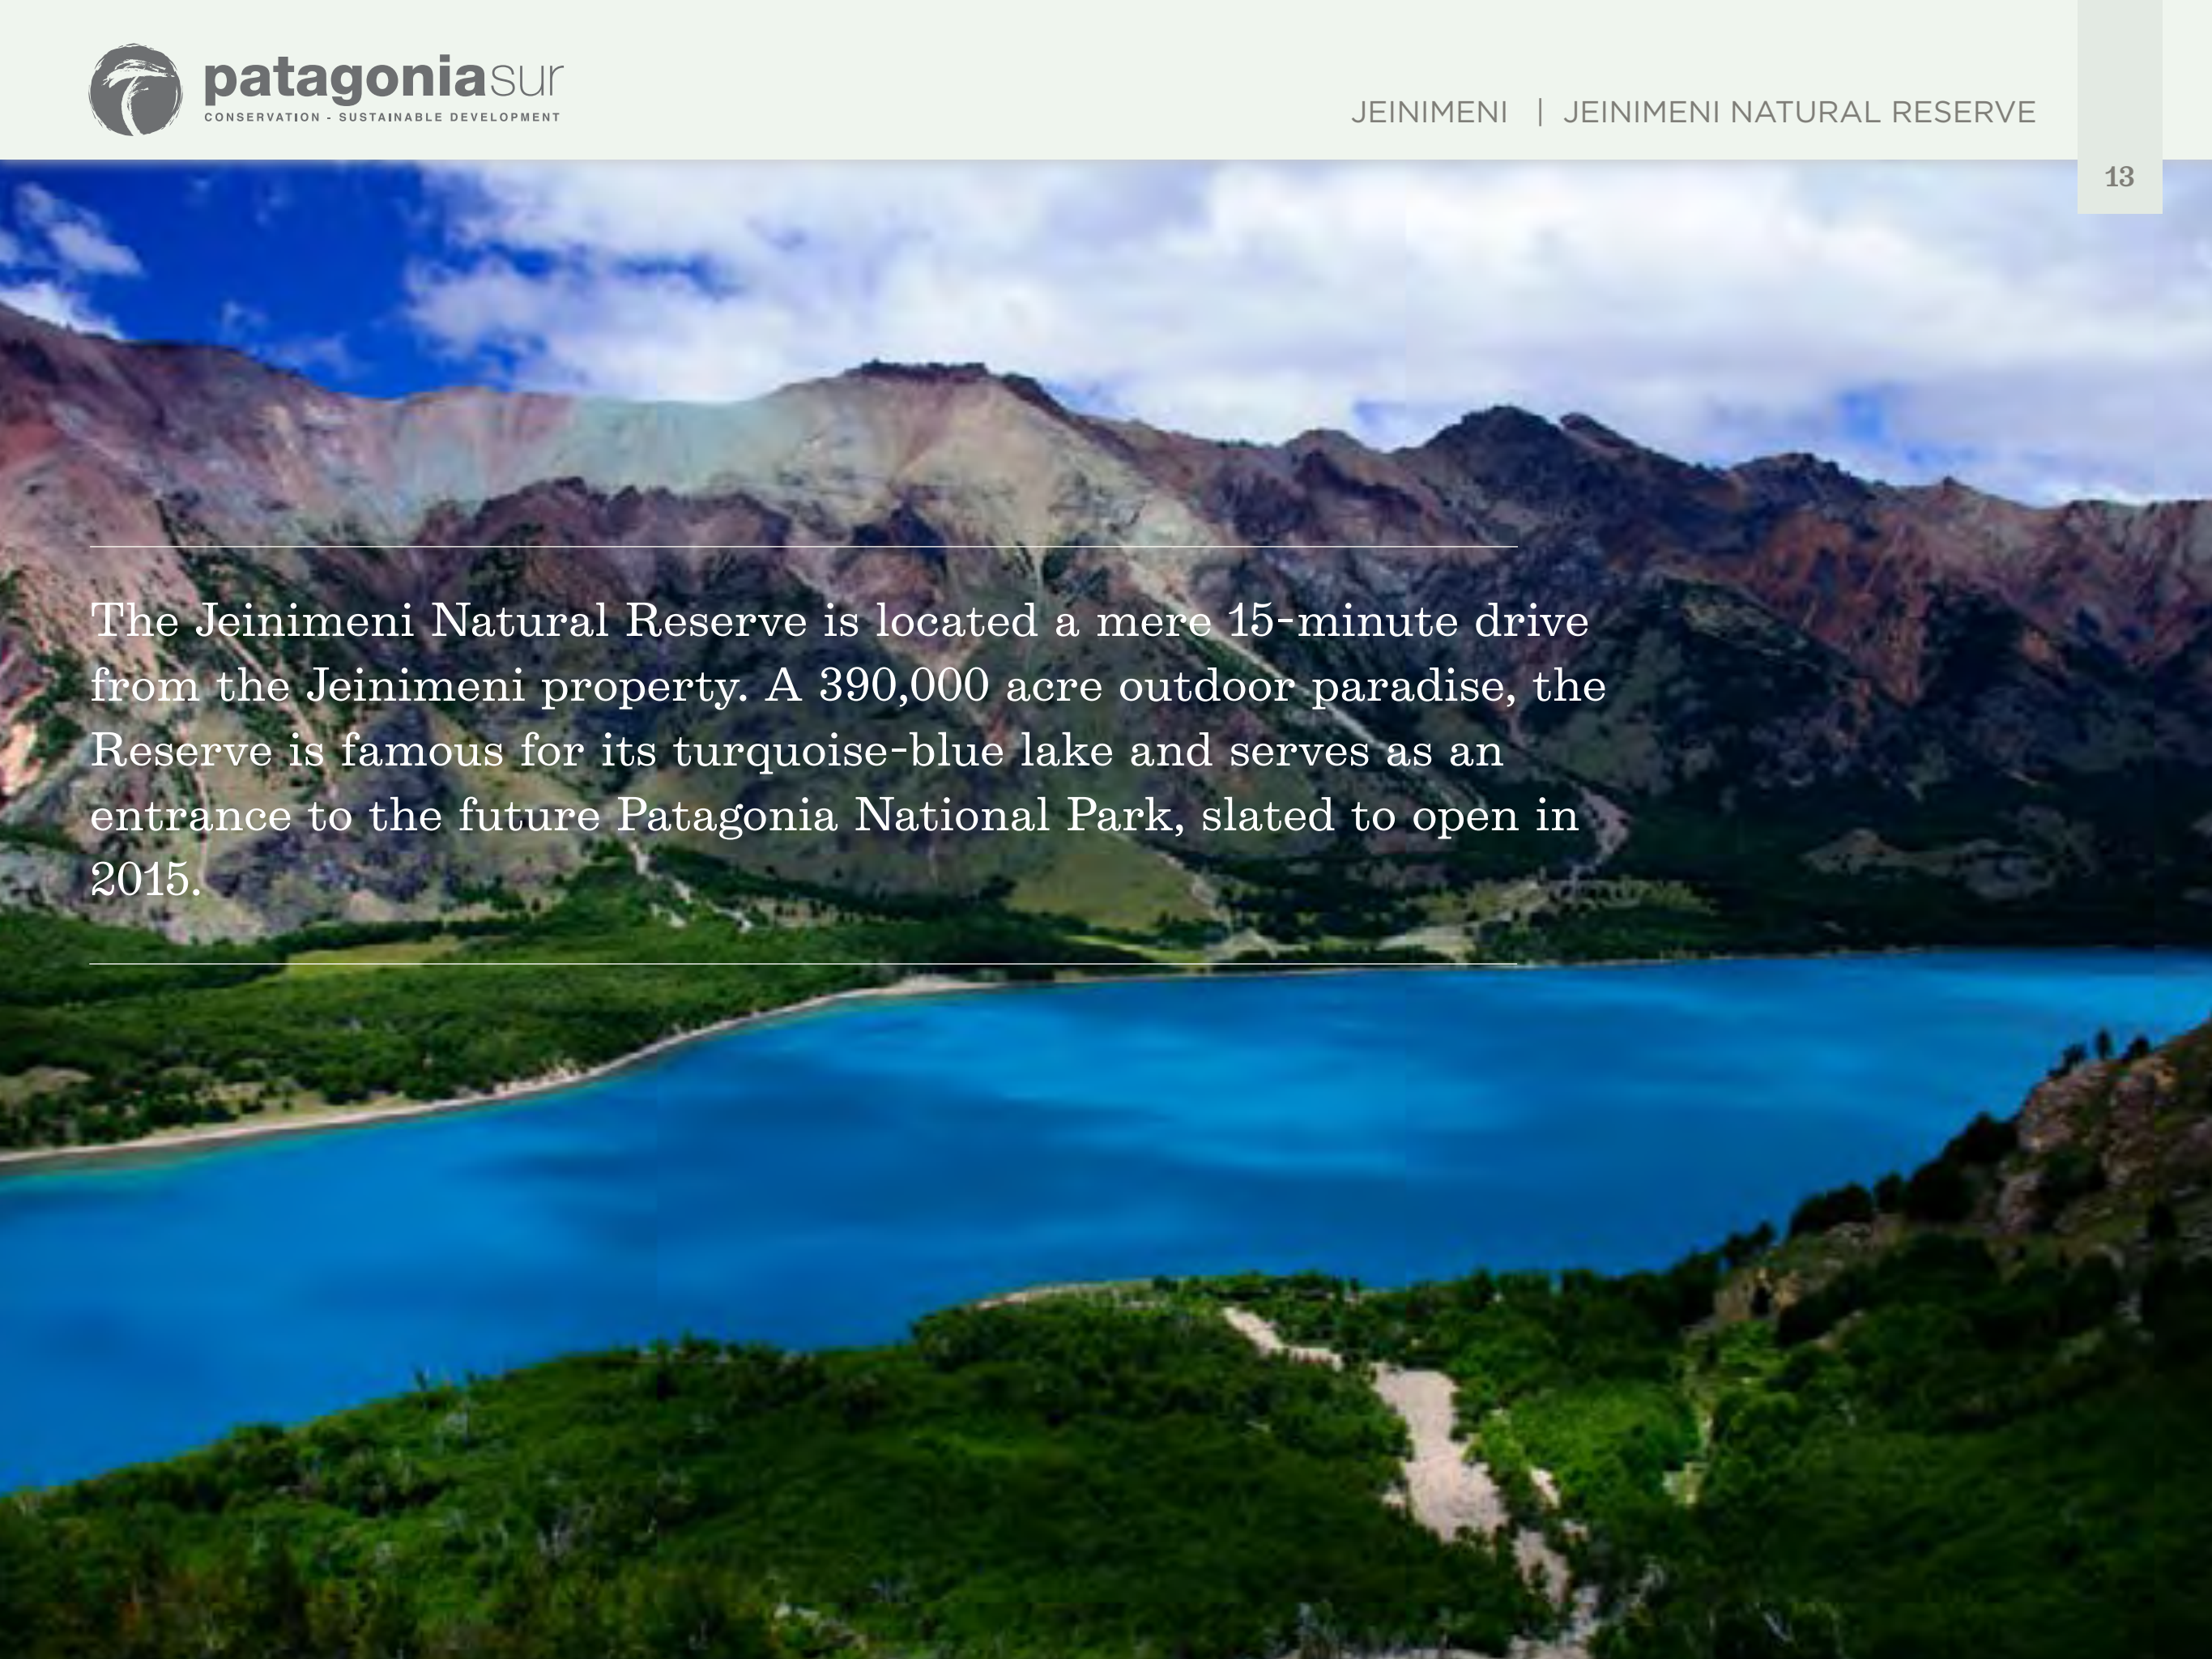

One of the highlights of the zone is the Piedra Clavada Circuit, a unique trail that hosts impressive geological formations and the Cave of the Hands, an ancient artistic legacy of the Tehuelche Indians.

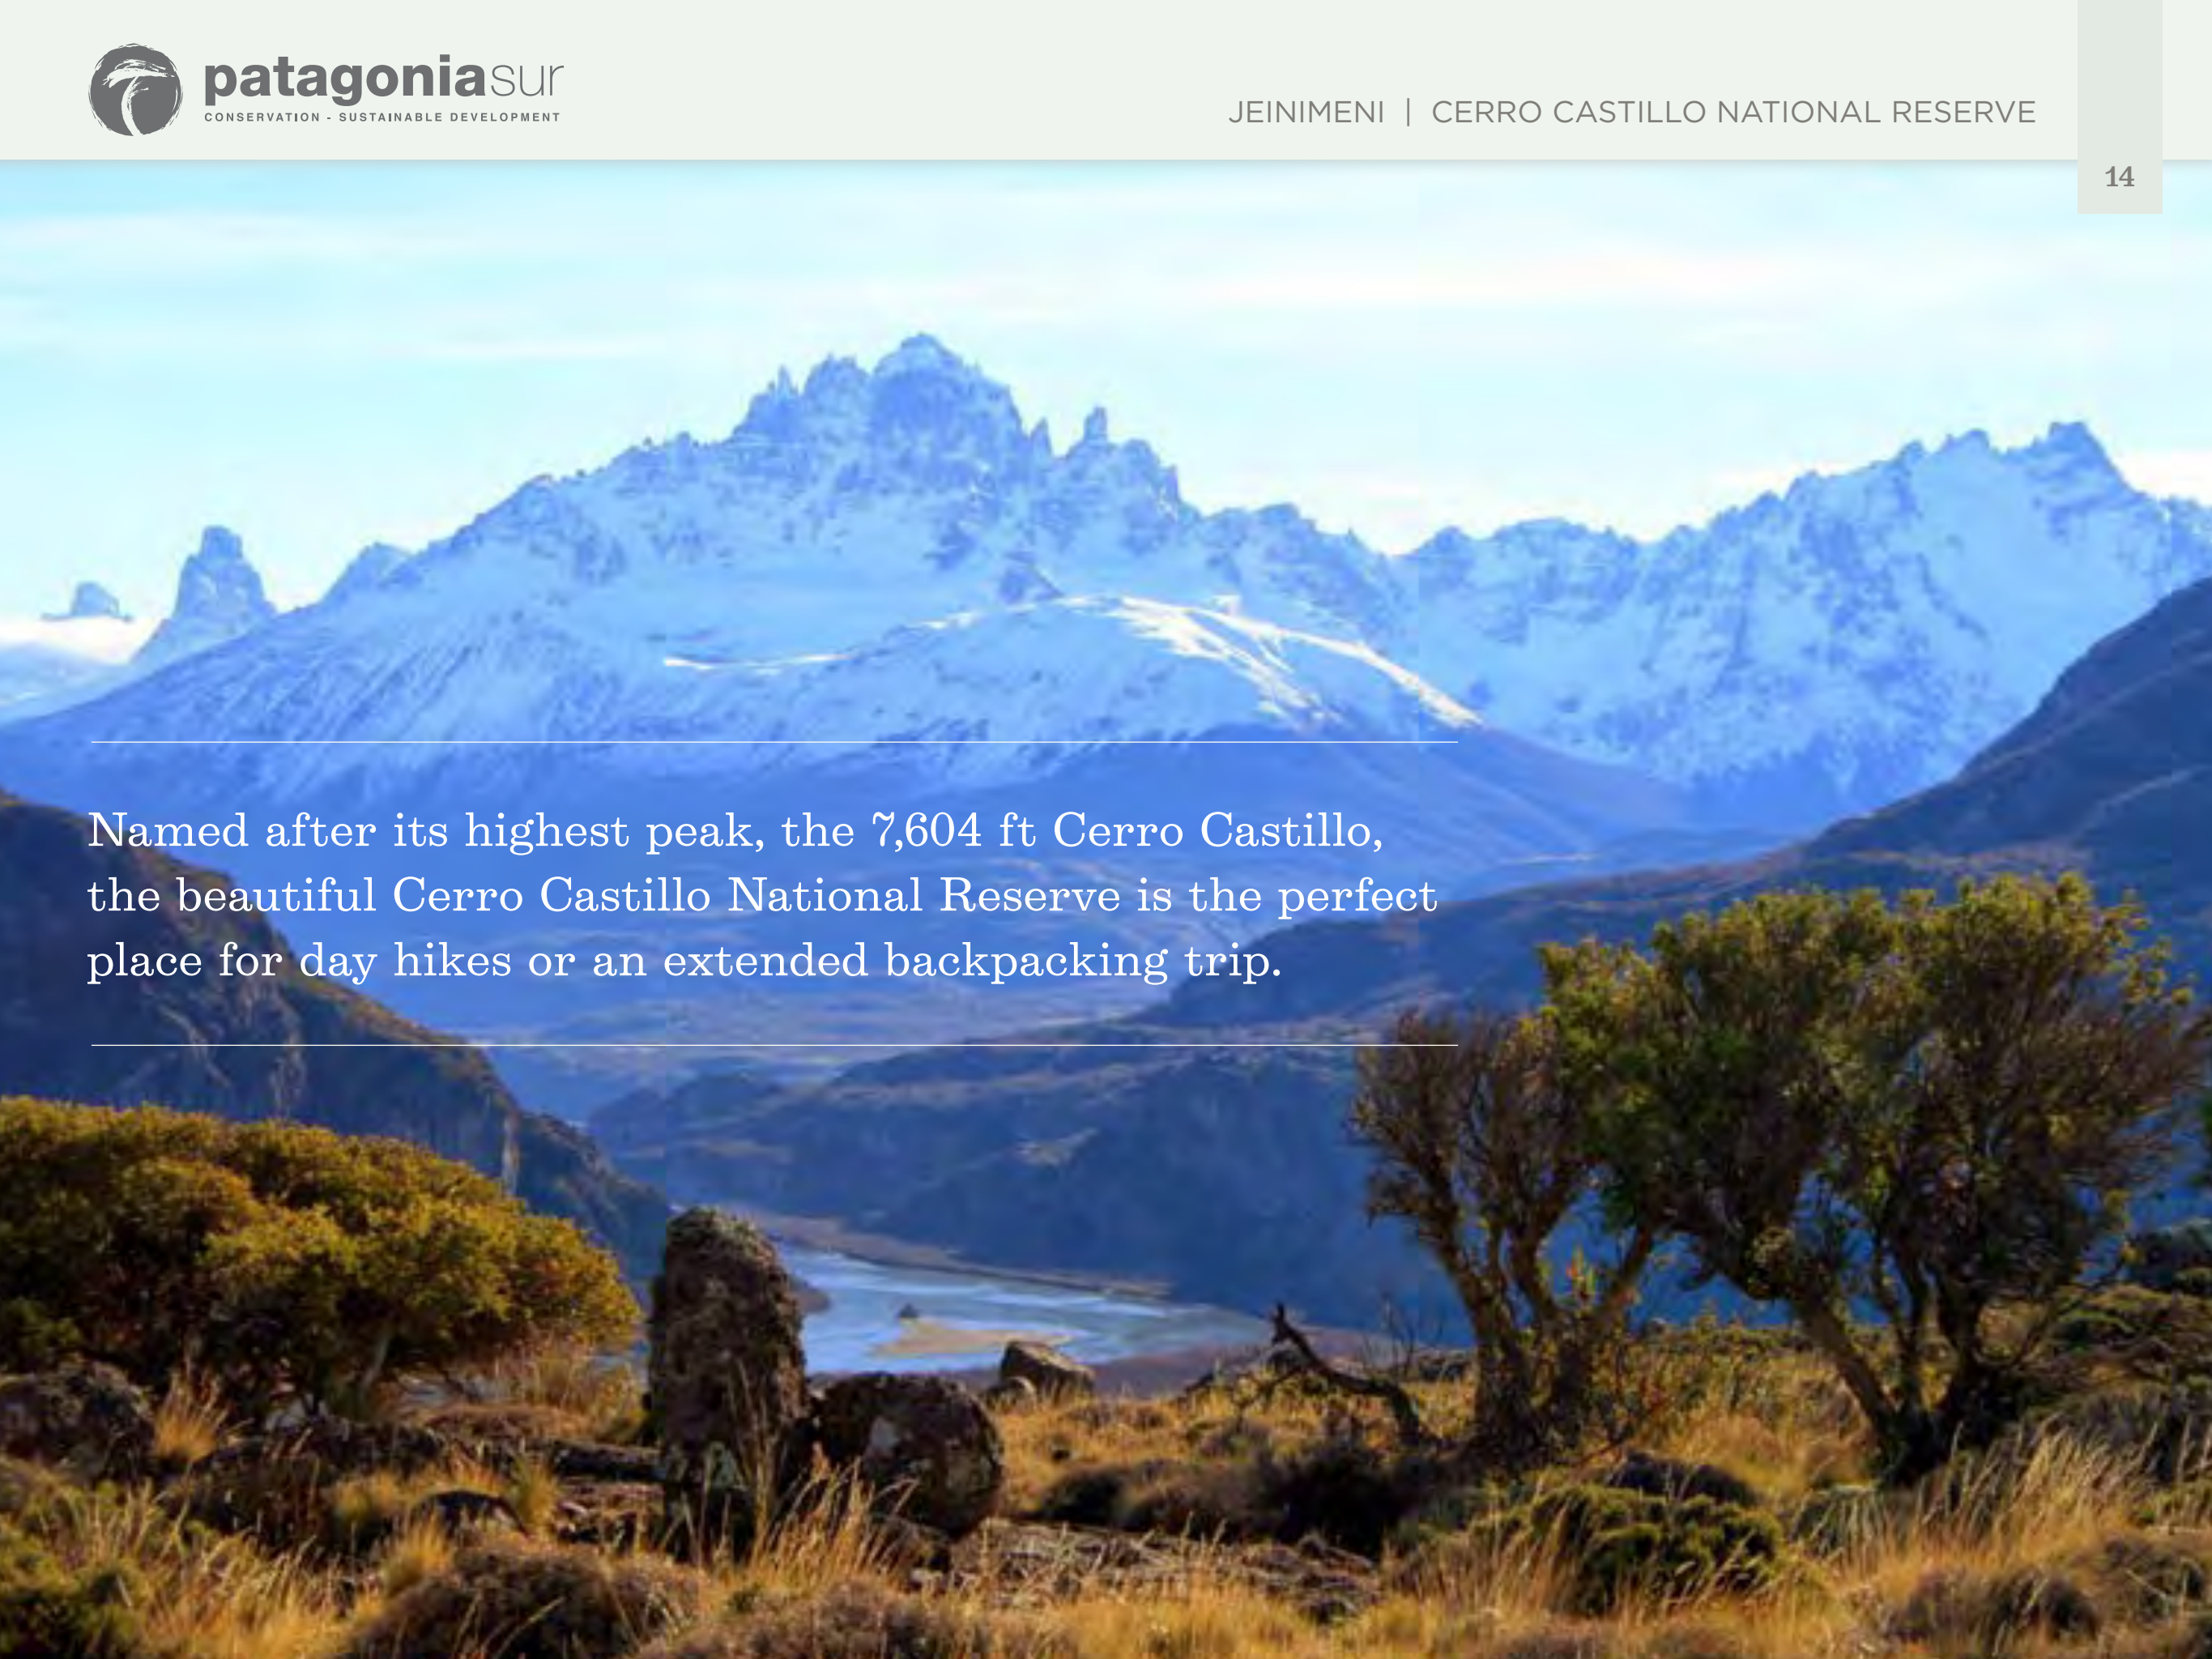

The Jeinimeni Natural Reserve is located a mere 15-minute drive from the Jeinimeni property. A 390,000 acre outdoor paradise, the Reserve is famous for its turquoise-blue lake and serves as an entrance to the future Patagonia National Park, slated to open in 2015.

---

Named after its highest peak, the 7,604 ft Cerro Castillo, the beautiful Cerro Castillo National Reserve is the perfect place for day hikes or an extended backpacking trip.
